Some Miraculous Escapes

Newsman Describes Horror in Texas City of the Dead

By James Flinchum

TEXAS CITY, April 17 — (BUP) — This is a city of dead and stories of miraculous escapes.

Even British United Press Staff Correspondent Robert E. Brown and I had a narrow escape. We left the waterfront area only a few seconds before the freighter High Flyer blew up this morning, killing Charles Kelley, 25, of Houston, and injuring 25 others in the area where we stood watching the waterfront fire.

We hurried back.

"It was just like the last time," said Red Cross Worker Mrs. Hallie Berg, who also had escaped miraculously. There were 50 Red Cross women near the scene. Some of them were injured but none was killed.

"A RED CROSS executive I knew only as Mr. Davis lost his eye," said Mrs. Berg. "I saw a man with his leg blown off. Most of the ship blew out over the water, but some of it landed on the dock." William Bankhead, 19, of Houston, said he and his buddy, James Nicholson, had returned to the waterfront only 30 minutes before the High Flyer explosion. After working all day, dragging dead and injured out of debris, they had taken a little time off, then returned to their volunteer work.

"We were about 200 yards from the ship," Bankhead said. "It picked me up and threw me about 10 feet. James and I ran and crawled under a parked car and stayed there until junk stopped falling."

Many Food Products

Free 136 Commodities From Export Control

OTTAWA, April 17 — (CP) — In the most sweeping removal of export controls yet made, Trade Minister MacKinnon today announced a list of 136 commodities freed from export control effective April 21.

THE LIST includes a large number of food products, many leather items, china and pottery, and all types of rubber goods except cotton-covered elastic. Their removal leaves export controls on less than half of the 1,100 commodities subject to export permits at V.I.-day.

The announcement lists the remaining classes of goods for which export controls will remain and the reasons for the retention are:

1. Certain food items, because of Canada's contract with the United Kingdom, UNRRA and commitments under the international emergency food council.
2. Cotton, woolen, rayon and nylon textiles, because of domestic requirements.
3. Building materials including timber, nail, soil pipe, etc., because of housing needs.
4. Iron and steel, because of domestic shortages, and the danger that removal of controls would cause a diversion of needed iron and steel into products for export markets, and
5. Arms, ammunition and implements of war, "for strategic reasons."

Butter To Jump If Subsidy Goes

OTTAWA, April 17 — (CP) — An increase of 10 cents or more a pound in the retail price of butter, if the current 10-cent subsidy on butterfat is dropped April 30, appeared to be a foregone conclusion last night in the light of a statement made in the Commons yesterday by Agricultural Minister Gardiner.

DISCUSSING the butter subsidy, Mr. Gardiner told the House any price changes in dairy products would be announced "shortly before" May 1, and at the same time assured the House the government had "intention of reducing the return which farmers would be receiving from May 1 on, as compared with what they had received just prior to May 1."

"As to what form the payment will take," he added, "I am not in a position to say at the present time."

Mr. Gardiner was replying to R. E. Drope (PC-Northumberland). THE MINISTER'S response was interpreted here as an indication that a price increase is planned and that it will take effect May 1. The present retail butter ceiling varying in the different localities across the country, is around 44 to 46 cents a pound.

Chang Chun Now Premier of China

NANKING, April 17 — (AP) — Gen. Chang Chun, who served on two committees seeking to end China's civil war and who advocates building up this republic by peaceful industrialization, yesterday became its premier. He succeeds T. V. Soong, who had taken a strong anti-Communist stand and who resigned March 1 under mounting criticism that his policies contributed to China's economic crisis early this year.

Empress to Sail

LONDON, April 17 — (CP) — Canadian Pacific Steamships announced today that the first post-war civilian sailing of the Empress of Canada would be June 25. During the war the liner served as a troopship.

Devastated City Ripped By New Blasts

Flaming Texas City Like Ploesti

By HAL BOYLE

OVER TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17 (AP)—Flaming Texas City today looks from the air like a peacetime parallel to war-bombed Ploesti, Romanian oil capital.

The fire-ravaged industrial section and the peaceful residential areas offer the contrast between life and death.

One is a two-mile-wide torch. The other is the living section of the city, still dependent on whether the present favorable wind holds. Angry smoke towers to 3,000 feet spread from the city.

At least a score of raw-oil storage tanks were blazing furiously. They are studied through scores of other storage tanks.

Many tanks have been so badly battered by blasts they look like tin cans crushed by children. The waterfront area is in charred ruins. Only remnants remain of the Monsanto chemical plant that went up after the nitrate-loaded French vessel Grand Camp exploded yesterday morning.

White pillars sticking up from the ghastly wreckage resemble row after row of military graves. And many do mark the death agony of scores of men.

For Survival CPR Economies Held Essential

OTTAWA, April 17 — (CP) — Economies undertaken by the Canadian Pacific Railway are necessary if the company is to survive, N. R. Crump, vice-president and general manager of CPR eastern lines, told the Board of Transport Commissioners today.

TESTIFYING in support of the Canadian railways' application for higher freight rates, Mr. Crump was on the witness stand as the CPR's final witness in the two-month-old inquiry.

Under questioning by Saskatchewan Counsel M. A. MacPherson, Mr. Crump recounted measures being undertaken by the CPR to increase efficiency and safety of trains and, ultimately, to effect operating economies.

He said the cost of track maintenance alone had jumped from

British Relax Curfew

Report Holy Land Is Quiet But Tense

JERUSALEM, April 17 — (AP) — British authorities today ordered a partial lifting of the strict curfew which had held more than 500,000 of Palestine's Jews under virtual house arrest since the hanging of four Jewish extremists yesterday at Acre prison.

THERE WAS no relaxation of vigilance, however, on the part of the military, alert for the first sign of retaliatory measures which the Jewish underground had promised in the event any of its members were executed.

In general, the situation throughout the Holy Land was reported quiet but tense.

A minor incident was reported at Acre prison where approximately 100 prisoners staged a one-day hunger strike in protest against the executions.

TRANSHIPMENT of 2,552 un-certified Jewish immigrants from the refugee ship Guardian was completed at Haifa without trouble, however, three transports departing for Cyprus with the last of the immigrants aboard.

Can't See Gouzenko As a "Redcoat"

OTTAWA, April 17 — (CP) — Commissioner S. T. Wood of the RCMP said today he "couldn't see" Igor Gouzenko becoming a member of his red-coated force.

He was commenting on the latest crop of reports about what the former Russian cipher clerk and key figure in the spy trials planned to do in the future. Absorption of Gouzenko in the RCMP has always been one of the pet theories.

"I don't think for a minute that Gouzenko has any such course in mind," said Wood.

The Russian has been under RCMP protection.

Strength Seen In British Govt.

LONDON, April 17 — (AP) — Henry A. Wallace, former vice-president of the United States, said today that Britain's labor government had "moral and spiritual strength fully equal to that of the Roosevelt cabinet in the early days of the new deal." Summing up his British impressions before starting a flying tour of Scandinavia and France, Wallace said that his only regret was that he was unable to get a more nearly complete picture of the Conservative viewpoint.

City Man Safe In Texas Blast

Dr. Herbert E. Morris, director of research at the Monsanto Chemical Corporation plant in Texas City, Texas, destroyed in a series of explosions Wednesday, has been reported safe.

Dr. Morris, a native of Edmonton, sent a telegram to his father, C. E. Morris, 9533 89 avenue, and his sister Mrs. Charles Travis Wednesday evening. It read: "Not hurt in explosion. Lost plenty of friends. Car wrecked."

Want Union Dues Exempt From Tax

VANCOUVER, April 17 — (CP) — A Canada-wide drive to have union dues declared deductible for income tax purposes will be started by the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council (AFL). It was announced yesterday. Sometime ago Ottawa was asked to grant this request and in a letter from Finance Minister Douglas Abbott the council was advised that the matter had been taken under consideration. Now the council will ask all trade unions in Canada to join the campaign and make representation to Federal authorities.

NUERNBERG, April 17 — (AP) — Field Marshal Ehard Milch was sentenced today to spend the rest of his life in prison for drafting slave labor into Germany's aircraft industries and using prisoners-of-war in the armament industry in violation of the laws of war. Second Ship Blows Up But Fires Being Controlled

By Robert E. Brown

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17 — (BUP) — Firemen this afternoon were bringing under control the last blazes of a 24-hour chain of explosions and flame which ravaged this Texas Gulf Coast industrial town and left perhaps 700 persons dead.

At 12 noon M.S.T., only three pillars of black oily smoke rose from the two-mile long waterfront area hardest hit by the holocaust which began at 9 a.m. yesterday with explosion of a nitrate-loaded French freighter at a dock. Firemen equipped with chemicals were moving in on the last blazes.

Earlier today the town had rocked to new blasts, one of which disintegrated another freighter and sowed new death and injury among survivors and rescue workers.

Gov. Beauford Jester issued from Austin an official estimate, based on Red Cross figures, that 600 to 650 persons had been killed, and 3,000 injured. In Washington the Red Cross said 400 persons were known dead, and more than 3,000 injured, in one of the grimmest tragedies of American disaster history.

Jester's estimates were broken down as follows: embalmed dead, 364; positive dead, 400; estimated dead, an additional 200 to 250. Hospitalized injured, 350 to 400, many in serious condition; estimated total injured 3,000.

No Accurate Figure

But no casualty figure could be much better than a guess. More than 400 bodies had been counted. Not until the flames subside could the thousands of rescue workers hope to reach other bodies—perhaps scores, perhaps hundreds—in the waterfront ruins.

The vast Monsanto Chemical Company plant, left a "ruined shell," may hold the fate of many persons, officials said. About 800 were working there Tuesday morning when the French freighter loaded with nitrates blew up, throwing chunks of steel for miles and setting off the chain of blasts and fire.

THE FATE OF crewmen aboard the French Lines ship Grand Camp and the American freighter High Flyer, which was torn to bits by an explosion today—16 hours after the Grand Camp explosion—was unknown. First word that any aboard the French ship had survived came from the French Lines office in New York, which said that at least five were alive, two of them critically injured.

In Washington, Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, D., called for a Senate investigation of the tragedy in view of "the high tension on international affairs." The disaster could have been accidental, he said, but it followed the pattern of numerous disasters preceding

No. 2 Leduc Well Not Producing

Imperial Oil officials both here and in Calgary, denied that the No. 2 well at Leduc had come into production. Rumors circulating in usually well-informed circles were that No. 2 had started producing.

"There is not one bit of truth in it," officials said. "We have checked the men at the well and with our Calgary office and production has not yet started."

No. 2 well, however, is down 4,996 feet and there is a possibility that it might come in soon, although even the most optimistic officials thought it would be a few days yet at the earliest.

No. 3 well is down to 4,374 feet and Muskeg well is at 215 feet.

Famed Flying Bishop Of Northland Dies

VANCOUVER, April 17 — (CP) — A veteran of 27 years of missionary work in Canada's northland, the Right Reverend Walter Archibald Geddes, 53, died suddenly yesterday while planning his return to duty in the Yukon after a long illness.

KNOWN AS THE "flying bishop" because of the wide use he made of aircraft to reach remote sections of his Arctic diocese, the Anglican bishop of the Yukon had been living with his family here for five months after a serious heart condition compelled him to leave his Dawson, Y.T., headquarters. He was walking in the garden when stricken and died shortly afterwards.

Last Sunday he was well enough

Explosion Sidelights

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17 — (AP) — Flaming balls of hemp twine hurtling crazily through the air like fireworks helped spread fire through this explosion-stunned city yesterday. The balls of hemp twine had been in the Grand Camp when it exploded. The blazing balls were scattered over Texas City like confetti.

Sgt. J. C. Smith of Beaumont, Tex., a Salvation Army worker, was handing a rescue worker a cup of coffee when the High Flyer exploded. A piece of flying steel severed Smith's right foot above the ankle but the coffee was not spilled.

J. V. Parise said he entered one building and found a room crowded with dead women workers. One was sitting upright at her desk, one hand in a drawer as if she were reaching for something. On the floor was $4,000 in currency and hundreds of dollars in war bonds.

Death came to one teen-age boy while he was riding his bicycle, and he was found, still

Three Fire Victims Flown to City

A mercy flight by an Associated Airways plane brought three fire victims from Lac la Biche to Edmonton Wednesday night. John Cebulak, his wife and three-year-old son were rushed to hospitals immediately upon arrival here. The three suffered severe burns when their store just outside of Lac la Biche burned down on Wednesday morning.

THE PLANE, piloted by Tom Fox and Bob Hunter, left Edmonton about 6:45 p.m. Thursday and returned with the three patients at 8:15 p.m. Paul's ambulance was on hand to meet the plane.

Mr. Cebulak and his son are in the Misericordia hospital while Mrs. Cebulak is in the Royal Alexandra. The husband was in the most serious condition, suffering severe and extensive burns. He is reported to have rushed into the burning building to bring his wife and son to safety.

Hospital authorities said Thursday that Mr. Cebulak's condition was "fairly good." His son received minor burns to the arms, legs and face and is doing fine. Mrs. Cebulak was also reported to be recovering from burns to the hands and legs.

yesterday "there is only a little hope" that 76-year-old King Christian can recover from a heart attack, a qualified source reported.

The king's strength was reported dwindling since morning and he most of the time when four physicians were visiting him. He was reported delirious a short time Tuesday. Danish cabinet members were ordered to stay at home and remain near a telephone. The king's temperature rose to 105.

this country's entry into World War II.
"In view of the high tension on international affairs," O'Daniel said, "and due to a rather large number of fires, explosions, railroad wrecks and other disastrous occurrences in this nation lately, all so nearly resembling disastrous occurrences which preceded our entry into the last war, due largely to communistic underground activity, I believe it is the duty of this Senate to conduct a full and complete investigation." J. C. TRAVAN, mayor of the town which yesterday had 18,000 inhabitants of whom half already had fled, said he believed all danger of further major explosions had been passed.

But British United Press correspondents, peering from the shattered windows of an upper story of the city hall—above which a United States flag hung at half staff—could see at least eight big oil fires sending their tall flames, topped with pillars of black smoke,
into the sky.

A north wind blew the smoke and noxious fumes out over Galveston Bay, and helped to keep the flames from spreading inland.
Of it, Deputy Mayor J. H. Hill said:

"The Lord is on our side."
But he emphasized that: "We are not out of the woods yet."
Supplies of foamite, a chemical of special value in fighting oil fires, were rushed into the area by truck and boat from Baytown and Houston. There was a report that dynamite might be used to halt the flames if they spread further.

The town was calm, and concern of most remaining residents centred around the high school gymnasium, where the yellow-tagged bodies of the dead lay in long rows for identification by relatives.

DAMAGE ESTIMATES ranged from $50,000,000 to $125,000,000, and the latter figure seemed to observers in the blasted area more likely to be correct.

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Bataan, called the disaster which began 24 hours ago when a French Lines freighter loaded with nitrates caught fire at the dock and exploded, worse than "the devastation of war."

Gov. Beauford Jester said, "it looks like someone had pretended they were a giant egg-beater mixing an omelet."

Two of today's blasts — latest in the long series — occurred aboard the freighter High Flyer, loaded with thousands of tons of nitrates and sulphur, and the second blast disintegrated the ship, throwing chunks of metal for miles, and killing and injuring many who had escaped earlier explosions.

THE THIRD was of less intensity, occurring as another of the many oil tanks which have been destroyed, blew up.

As thousands of rescue workers toiled into the second day of the tragedy the major damage included:

The freighters Grand Camp and High Flyer destroyed.

Two smaller ships and several barges destroyed.

The huge $19,000,000 Monsanto

ing. It's a bustle, as displayed by chemical company plant burned and blasted to a "hollow shell."

Fifty or more oil storage tanks blowed out.

Two oil refineries heavily damaged.

Most of the docks, warehouses, and office buildings along the waterfront destroyed, buildings wrecked as far as two miles away, houses shaken and windows broken over an area of 140 square miles.

FIVE HUNDRED automobiles parked in the area, reduced to twisted wreckage.

A tank of chlorine gas blew up and threatened for a time to spread deadly fumes over the town, but a favorable wind blew the gas out to sea.

Fires were visible all night from a distance of 70 miles. A man in an airport control tower 38 miles away saw the flash as the High Flyer exploded.

Some 1,500 law enforcement officers patrolled the wrecked town. Thousands of other workers dug into debris for the bodies of those still missing. There were 350 doctors on the scene, 150 embalmers worked in long lines in a garage hastily converted to a mortuary. The bodies, after the embalmers had finished with them, were placed in long rows on the basketball court in the high school gymnasium.

AIRPLANES winged into the disaster area with thousands of pounds of blood plasma and other medical supplies. A Braniff airlines plane left Dallas about 8
a. m. to take more embalming fluid and more morticians to the town.

Children's Great Need Spiritual

OLDS, Alta., April 17 (CP)— Better schools, lighting, equipment and teachers are needed for school children, but the greatest need today is the spiritual need of children, G. P. Bruce of Edmonton, said here yesterday morning when he gave his president's address at the opening session of the three-day convention of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations.

MORE THAN 150 delegates from 143 affiliated locals in the province are attending the 16th annual meeting at the provincial school of agriculture here. Delegates from as far north as North Star and as far south as Whiskey Gap are present for the convention.

"Considerable concern is voiced about our children, but the concern should be for teachers and parents," Mr. Bruce said. "Teachers and parents should measure themselves frequently, for children are quick to detect inconsistencies and insincerity."

Mr. Bruce stressed the value of spiritual development as the keystone of successful living.

Fewer Veterans Receiving Help

A further drop of 48 in the number of veterans receiving out-of-work allowances was recorded in the last week, showing a total of 705 on April 15. It was announced Thursday by John W. Proctor, district administrator for the department of veterans affairs in Edmonton.

At the same date last year there were 2,316 receiving the allowances.
A total of 1,536 were awaiting returns from allowances advanced for farming and business enterprises.
At the same date last year the number was 1,258, an increase of 201 for the week over the preceding seven days.

Those on farms number 1,399 with 137 in business.
There were 133 veterans in receipt of business and professional loans, totalling $245,995 at April 15.

Plumbing, sanitation and food problems form the basis of the annual occurred. Hospital attendants last night reported her condition as

Plan Fly Chicks Anywhere in World

CHILLIWACK, B.C., April 17
(CP)—M. E. Pringle, who pioneered the transportation by air of baby chicks last week when 10,000 were flown from here to Edmonton, announced yesterday he planned world export of the chicks following the success of the first flight. He said he had already purchased one airplane for the transport of the young birds to the Peace River area and was contemplating buying another. "We should be able to reach any city in the world in 60 hours," he said.

Delay Strike Move For Another Day

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)— Labor Secretary Schwelmbach and his top conciliators indicated today they will hold off another 24 hours before making any new move to end the telephone strike.
"We'll see what develops from the company and union first," said one key figure in the federal efforts to unsmoke the country—wide tieup, now in its 11th day.

BOTH THE striking National Federation of Telephone Workers and the American Telephone and Telegraph company—parent of the Bell system—held aloof from Schwelmbach's plan for arbitrating the scores of local issues and 10 basic demands which led to the strike.

If accepted the plan would have ended the strike at 5 p.m., today, after 48 hours of "intense" negotiations on issues which were to have been excluded from arbitration.

Within one hour after yester-

Asks Understanding Toward Russians

TORONTO, April 17 (CP)—Arthur R. Ford, editor-in-chief of the London Free Press, last night urged
"a sympathetic attempt to understand Russia and her viewpoint" because Russia is the key to the success of the United Nations. Addressing a dinner meeting of the Toronto Graphic Arts Association, Mr. Ford reviewed relations between Russia and the Western Powers and said "We may fear Russia, but Russia is on the other hand suspicious and fearful of the Western Powers." Horse traders are hard bargainers, the Russians did not want to withdraw from the United Nations and did not want to be isolated.

HAVE TOUGH TASK: Above are three men who take down every word said in hearings at the city police court. Their shorthand speed ranges from 190 to 250 words a minute. All three use the Pitman system and all agreed that it was the system preferred by most reporters. From left to right are: Russell Klesko, 12807 88 street; S. M. Barnett, 9715 87 avenue, and John McMann, 10752 80 avenue.

Encounter Many Difficulties

Court Reporters Have Hard Task

BY JACK WILCE

Poor diction, bad grammar and broken English all add up to a headache for those fast moving shorthand men with the "swishing pens"—the police court reporters.

IN THE CITY court staff are: S. M. "Barney" Barnett, 9715 87 avenue; John McMann, 10752 80 avenue, and Russell Klesko, 12807 88 street. Altogether, there are seven reporters in Edmonton, and eight in all of Northern Alberta.

One major obstacle of the court reporter is the lawyer who gets excited in his cross examination of a witness and begins firing unfinished and ill-constructed sentences at the man or woman in the box.

OFTEN, WHILE in the midst of such examinations, the lawyer's grammar slips somewhat, until the poor "pen pusher" doesn't know what to expect next.

Imagine the plight of the reporter who runs into such a lawyer when he is questioning a witness who speaks broken English. It is necessary that the reporter take down every word just as spoken, and usually at a speed ranging from 160 to 200 words per minute.

ALL THREE OF our reporters agreed that the hardest broken English is Chinese.

Barney, who is the senior reporter at the city court, claims that it takes five years of diligent study and practice to become an efficient court reporter. "You have to be able to do at least 190 words a minute to make a start in court," he said.

It was learned that at times a reporter has to do spurts of about 250 words a minute. However the average speed is about 200 and a trial may go on for hours.

A GOOD SOUND knowledge of trades and professions also is a necessity. In many trials some lengthy medical terms or engineering phrases are thrown about at random in the court room, and the reporter is expected to take them down, understand, and spell them.

Thirty-two year old Barney is sort of "a chip off the old block." For the last 30 years his father has been a court reporter in Alberta.

Barney claims one of his father's favorite sayings is "you don't need to be crazy to be a court reporter, but it helps."

AND SO PROBABLY working on his father's advice, Barney began his study of shorthand while employed at nights back in the 30's as an attendant at the Ponoka mental hospital. He has now been doing the actual reporting for six years. He is married and has one son.

"Mac", 30-years-old, also married but no family, is the middle man at city court. He garnered most of his practice while in the army reporting courts martial, and then taking interviews, in preparation for a medical history of the war.

HE SAID one of his oddest moments in shorthand was taking down an interview while atop the leaning tower of Pisa.

Junior man at the city court is Russell, 25, and still single. He came to the city court staff in December '46 and just recently started taking cases alone in court.

He began his shorthand before the war but took time off to serve as a pilot with the RCAF during the war. He is well known in the city as a hockey player having played with the 45-46 intermediate All-Stars.

He decided to give up this sport however in order to avert possible injury to his wrist or fingers, which would prove most detrimental to his work.

In spite of all their "beefs" the trio said they wouldn't trade their jobs for the world.

Atom Questions Handed Russia

LAKE SUCCESS, April 17. — (AP)—Puzzled delegates to the United Nations atomic energy commission submitted written questions on atomic control and inspection today for the Soviet Union to answer.

Following procedure agreed upon in a closed session, members of the working committee of the commission shaped their queries in writing—and Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, was expected to answer in writing.

DELEGATES intimated that the question in which most were interested was this: "Does Russia want inspection of atomic plants by international personnel responsible to an international agency or does Russia want inspection by national personnel responsible to an international agency?"

The atomic issue was shifted down to the committee stage, where delegates predicted it would remain for some time.

MIMICO, Ont.—(CP)—Map-makers were puzzled by a year book of the Lakeshore District Police Association which included a business directory of the western Toronto suburbs, including Mazenabekas-see. Inquiry disclosed Mazenabekas-see used to be the title of the Credit Indian Reserve.

To Destroy Naval Base

Helgoland Blast All Set

By SEAGHAN MAYNES

HELGOLAND, April 17. — (Reuters) — Everything is in readiness for the biggest explosion since Bikini Friday when more than 6,000 tons of high explosive will dismember this former German north sea naval base of Helgo Island.

Operation "big bang" is designed to destroy warship pens, coast batteries and 8½ miles of underground tunnels constructed by the Germans.

When I landed here with a party of journalists more than 100 former members of the German Navy were trundling hundreds of torpedo warheads with 900 pounds of explosive into the island's underground concrete-lined tunnels.

Some German sailors, natives of the island, took no pleasure in stacking the masses of warheads, mines, shells and other explosives which will be detonated by a spark travelling from chamber to chamber at a speed of 22,000 feet a second.

British naval officers on the island were not prepared to forecast exactly what would happen when the gigantic mass was detonated.

Say Propaganda In City Schools

Executive council of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Wednesday, discussed complaints received about circulation in city schools of varied brands of political propaganda.

After a lengthy talk it was decided to take no official action "unless in specific instances in which authentic information is available."

The distress call SOS was adopted internationally in 1906.

SERVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY

"Chemistry?"

... I KNOW HOW TO SPELL IT!

WITH LITTLE GIRLS, chemistry is just a collection of letters. To them it's smart to be able to put them together correctly. But chemistry means much more than just a classroom spelling triumph.

A turn of the tap brings water purified by chemistry. The farmer grows good things to eat because his land is fertilized by chemistry. Frocks and other wearing apparel are coloured with dyes; their fabrics are improved by chemical treatment. Chemistry helps make many other things... brushes, paint, book-binding, "Cellophane", nylon. Those colourful, useful plastics are also products of this great science.

And it's going to make others, for the chemical industry is always forging ahead on the trail of newer and better things... with the C-I-L Oval as the symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

For instance! "CELLOPHANE" THE SMART, modern packaging material that protects foods, cosmetics, fabrics and so many other things, shows them to advantage at the same time. "Cellophane" is a typical product of Chemistry, made by Canadian Industries Limited, Head Office, P.O. Box 10, Montreal.

Dwellings "Tight" in Montreal

Old Police Stations Now Family Homes

By Isadore Albin

MONTREAL, April 17.—(CP)—To families housed in comfortable apartments, the average home means a nice four or five-room flat with all the necessary conveniences but to 55 Montreal families it means living in police and fire stations.

MANY OF THESE temporarily housed families live in drab and unsanitary rooms of old police stations, but as Mrs. John McLaughlin, one of the station dwellers, said "we're better off living in our one-room apartment than staying on the street."

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin and their little daughter, Grace, live with three other families in old No. 8 police station on downtown Eglise Street. They have been living there for nearly four years, unable to find an apartment.

The problems experienced by the McLaughlins can be duplicated many times. Living in a cold and damp apartment more than three years ago, little Grace, then aged one year, contracted pneumonia and her father was stricken with pleurisy. Landlords refused to rent them dwellings; they wanted no children.

ASSISTANT Director Conrad Saint-Amant of Montreal's department of social welfare said the majority of the temporarily-housed have been living in the police and fire stations since 1943.

"Increases in the number of evictions, coupled with the fact that we are unable to obtain any type of dwelling for the evicted, greatly aggravates our problem of housing these people," he said.

The social welfare department, faced with many other public welfare tasks, is doing its utmost to help solve the tremendous housing problem of Montreal teeming with more than 1,000,000 persons and thousands of country people who flocked here during the war and stayed.

IN ARMED HOLDUP: Above are the taxi driver and policeman who figured prominently in the armed holdup offence committed Wednesday morning by Mike Suchodolski, who is now awaiting sentence in city police court. Alex Moskalyk, 10303 123 street, a taxi driver, was held up by the armed bandit and robbed of $12, and his cab. A few hours later Constable H. J. Moore, city police, arrested the armed man after he recognized him on the street. At the time the constable had just finished his tour of duty and was turning in the front gate of his home.

Major Hurdle Jumped

Give Second Reading Ottawa Control Bill

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, April 17.—(CP)—The government's main control bill hurdled a major obstacle in the Commons yesterday by a vote of 125 to 43 after two cabinet ministers—Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent and Justice Minister Isley—sharply criticized the stand taken on the legislation by the Progressive Conservative party.

TAKING THE FLOOR after John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) had charged that sections of the legislation were worthy of a police state, Mr. Isley said the opposition party's views on controls had been tempered recently by "sheer opportunism."

Mr. St. Laurent challenged the party to go to the country and take the stand that nothing in the control bill should be passed.

The Progressive Conservatives and a few Independents were the only ones to vote against second reading. The reading, interpreted as acceptance of the principle of the bill, was supported by CCF, Social Credit and government members.

NOW MEMBERS tackle the task of dealing with the eight clauses of the bill and the 57 orders-in-council appended to it.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government was asking the house to accept the orders-in-council "holobolus." A member was placed in the position where "by voting for this bill he would be upholding these things that are wrong, but if he votes against the bill because his conscience demands that he must in order that these things shall not continue, then that vote will be misrepresented and he will be held as voting against certain of the orders-in-council which he will be prepared to support if given the opportunity in separate bills."

Mr. Isley said the principle involved in the bill was the granting of power to the government to continue certain of the wartime orders-in-council and regulations for a limited period.

The Progressive Conservative party had come to the session with the announced intention of having controls removed immediately and he felt it had weakened its stand "very much."

THE POSITION on controls outlined by John Bracken, Progressive Conservative party leader, at the beginning of the session would not be repeated by that same leader today, said Mr. Isley. He could remember speeches in which Progressive Conservative members had stated there could be no gradual decontrol.

The Progressive Conservatives held to this view until they went home for the Easter recess and came in contact with the true sentiment of the people.

Princess Given $40,000 Cheque

BULAWAYO, South Africa, April 17.—(Reuters)—A $40,000 (840,000) cheque, payable to "Her Royal Highness, Princess Elizabeth" was presented to Princess Elizabeth as a 21st birthday present when the Royal Family left Bulawayo station yesterday on their way to Mafeking, Cape Province. The cheque subscribed by the people of the colony will be used for the interchange of Rhodesian and British young men and women to increase mutual knowledge and understanding of the two countries.

Big 4 Deadlock Continues

MOSCOW, April 17.—(AP)—The council of foreign ministers failed tonight to break a deadlock over re-transfer of displaced persons from Austria. The United States, Britain and France refused to accept a Soviet demand that these persons be expelled within six months from the date the Austrian treaty takes effect.

STATE SECRETARY Marshall urged the handling of some 500,000 displaced persons in Austria in accordance with the resolution adopted by the United Nations last autumn.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, deputy designated by Foreign Minister Molotov to argue the question, said the Russians had not agreed to that resolution, and added that the UN action was supposed to apply only to Germany.

Vishinsky denied Marshall's charge that this, in effect, was the use of a veto of a UN general assembly decision.

THE COUNCIL earlier heard a demand that a large slice of Austrian Carinthia be turned over to Yugoslavia in any peace settlement.

The four-power council's first morning session was addressed by the Yugoslav vice-premier, Edvard Kardelj, who repeated his country's previous charges that a third of the German Army which fought in Yugoslavia was Austrian; that there were 80 Austrian generals in the German Army and that an Austrian general commanded the air force which bombed Belgrade at the war's start.

FOREIGN MINISTER Karl Gruber has insisted the Austrian government never would sign a treaty ceding southern Carinthia. Gruber has American support, and the Yugoslavs are supported by Russia.

Need for Freight Boost is "Urgent"

OTTAWA, April 17.—(CP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday opened the last phase of its case for higher freight rates with N. R. Crump, vice-president and general manager of eastern lines, telling the board of transport commissioners the need of an increase was "very urgent."

EXPECTED TO BE the last witness in the CPR presentation that opened Feb. 18, the Toronto official declared Canada's railway transport situation was "critical" and the railways' future rested "very largely" on the outcome of the current inquiry into their application for general 30-per-cent freight-rate increases.

Under later cross-examination by Saskatchewan counsel M. A. MacPherson, the vice-president, an operating officer, conceded he knew nothing of the railways' rate structure but reiterated that they needed more revenues.

As matters stand now, he said, the CPR staff was under instructions to "drastically curtail" maintenance until an increase in freight rates was obtained.

"It has been necessary to postpone all projects not absolutely essential to safety and efficiency, but which, nevertheless, are badly needed," he declared.

Fake Vaccine Was Plain Water

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Sylvia Steinberg, 29, admitted last night, police said, that she had posed as a practical nurse and "vaccinated" about 500 persons against smallpox—with water. She was arrested by a policeman who watched her injecting patrons of a Harlem restaurant and charged with unlawful practice of medicine.

VIENNA, April 17 (AP)—The United States newspaper Vienna Kurier reported yesterday the discovery of four more mass graves in Upper Austria containing the bodies of 193 victims of concentration camps. Some 400 bodies were reported found Tuesday in four other mass graves near Weis.

U.S. Plans Cut 1948 Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—The United States government, expecting export demand to decline after this year, is planning to ask farmers to plant a slightly smaller 1948 wheat acreage.

Next year's production goal will be announced in either June or July, to give winter wheat growers time to make their plans before they start seeding in the fall. MEANWHILE, plans are being made to allot foreign shortage areas up to 350,000,000 bushels from this year's wheat crop — which may set a record of around 1,250,000,000 bushels. Exports from the 1946 crop are expected to total 300,000,000 bushels.

Danger of Floods Past in Manitoba

WINNIPEG, April 17—(CP)—Danger of extensive flood damage in Manitoba was believed past today as the Red and Assiniboine rivers continued the drop in water levels which started yesterday. The waters took a death toll of one, 50-year-old William Sweetz of Dauphin, 160 miles northwest of here, having drowned yesterday when he fell into a hole in the ice on nearby Edwards creek. He was drawn under by the swift current, his body being recovered later 200 yards away.

Two Kiddies Die As Home Burned

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 17 (CP)—Two small children, Florence, seven, and Carol, six, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pretty, were burned to death yesterday in a fire which swept their home on the outskirts of the city.

Alta. Farmers Pay Million in Taxes

OTTAWA, April 17—(CP)—Income tax of $1,114,000 was levied on 4,459 Alberta farmers in the 1945-46 fiscal year, figures tabled in the Commons showed. Taxation officials said the difference between the 4,459 who were assessed in that year and the 11,360 who filed assessable returns could be put down to a number of reasons which added up to a considerable backlog which would iron itself out in time. Another 11,194 Alberta farmers filed returns which were found to be not assessable because of various reasons such as the amount earned and the number of dependents.

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—Surgeon-General Thomas P. Parran of the United States Army urged senators Wednesday to approve a $1,000,000 fund for streptomycin experiments "in the specific treatment of tuberculosis" saying the new drug "gives some promise" in the fight against the disease.

OTTAWA, April 17—(CP)—The auxiliary air force, vital factor in Canada's plans for the peacetime RCAF, now has seven squadrons operating in various parts of the Dominion and three more will be operative by the end of the year, it was learned today.

WHEN CANADA'S peacetime air force plan was drawn up for a 16,500-man permanent force — later slashed 25 per cent — provision was made for a 4,500-man auxiliary force of 15 squadrons. The other five squadrons will be brought into being later but not before the end of 1947.

Auxiliary squadrons now operative are No. 442 fighter squadron, Vancouver; No. 402 fighter squadron, Winnipeg; No. 424 fighter squadron, Hamilton; No. 400 fighter squadron, Toronto; No. 401 and No. 438 fighter squadrons, Montreal and No. 418 tactical bomber squadron, Edmonton.

IN ADDITION No. 411 fighter squadron, Toronto, and No. 406 tactical bomber squadron, Saskatoon, have been recently formed and flying operations will commence this year. No. 420 fighter squadron will be formed at London, Ont. May 1 according to present plans and will become the 10th auxiliary squadron to become operative.

IN TEL AVIV, Hafia and Petah Tikvah the curfew was ended completely this morning after being in effect for a day and a night. In Jerusalem, it was lifted at 6:30 a.m. but was to be reimposed at 6:30 tonight.

An all-night curfew on road travel was ordered continued until further notice in all except purely Arab districts.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 17.—(AP)—A major clash at the forthcoming special Palestine session of the United Nations Assembly appeared to be shaping up last night as Jewish and Arab leaders mapped their strategy amid increasing world tension over the Holy Land problem.

JEWISH AGENCY officials were busy in New York on two controversial proposals for submission to secretary-general Trygve Lie, while leaders of the Arab states drafted their plans in Damascus for the April 28 session at Flushing.

A spokesman for the Jewish agency, official voice of Palestine Jews, said the assembly would be asked formally to provide for Jewish representation in the discussions and for immediate opening of Palestine to Jewish immigration. An Arab spokesman said these proposals would meet strong opposition.

Hope to Improve Accommodation

By Victor Mackie

EDMONTON, April 17.—Efforts will be made by the National defence department to provide more and better accommodation for married personnel required by their duties to remain at navy, army and air stations for lengthy periods. It was learned here following the return to Ottawa of Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence.

MR. CLAXTON during the Easter parliamentary recess made a tour of armed forces installations and camps in the west. He was impressed with the need of providing as soon as possible improved accommodation for married personnel particularly at army camps.

The army is seeking to attract men into its service and it had originally had anticipated that around 40 per cent of those enlisting would be married men. That estimate is believed too low in some quarters and there are indications the percentage of married men in the army will be increased to 50 per cent.

BUT IF MARRIED men are to join the army and remain in the service there must be comfortable accommodation provided for their wives and families. Thus the provision of suitable accommodation for married personnel will be an important factor in maintaining the army's strength in peace-time. It is recognized.

Mr. Claxton it is understood, was surprised at the lack of such accommodation and intends to take steps to rectify that situation as speedily as possible.

The new joint army-air school at Rivers, Manitoba, for example will require the construction of considerable quarters for married personnel.

A start has been made by the army at Chilliwack army engineers school. At that school duplex and separate comfortable homes have been provided for married personnel and others are being erected. It is understood.

DURING HIS WESTERN tour, Mr. Claxton in addition to inspecting naval and air installations visited the army installations at Sea Island, B.C. He visited the army establishments in Regina, Camp Shilo and Rivers in Manitoba. He returned to Ottawa Tuesday.

"AND I'VE HAD to apply that treatment at some time or other to almost every male and female star I've worked with," he continued. "They stay out late nights and show up with Sunset Strip circles under their eyes. It's up to the make-up men to make them look young and fresh."

Many western stars, it developed, have to wear toupees, and in this list, Lauder declared, is William Elliott, otherwise known as "Red Ryder."

an average of $544 per mile per year in 1939 to $1,232 in 1946.

NOTING THAT Mr. Crump had described the railway situation as "critical," Mr. MacPherson asked if he knew the CPR had set aside $25,000,000 for deferred maintenance and last year had reported holdings of $46,000,000 in cash and $31,000,000 in temporary investments and had also paid off $10,000,000 on its funded debt.

Mr. Crump agreed these figures were in the company's annual report.

THE SASKATCHEWAN counsel asked if Mr. Crump agreed with a statement made before the parliamentary railway committee by J. E. Armstrong, CPR chief engineer, that the 1937 standard of CPR upkeep was about the same as 1930 and that the chief lack was for paint on wooden structures.

Mr. Crump replied that in 1937 the company was emerging from the depression, and the contrast between conditions then and in 1930 would not be so marked as between 1934 and 1930.

As to the chief lack being paint, Mr. Crump said he could hardly agree with the chief engineer.

Questioned by Mr. MacPherson, Mr. Crump said the CPR had spent $23,944,000 on maintenance of way and structures in the east last year, compared with $26,508,000 in the west. Both these figures included depreciation.

THE COUNSEL observed that the western track mileage was about double that of the mileage on eastern lines.

Asked about the comparative speeds of trains in the east and west, Mr. Crump agreed with the

New Type Glue Holds 50 Tons

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., April 17.—(AP)—The stickiest of all glues—strong enough to hold up a 100,000-pound locomotive—was reported to the American Chemical Society yesterday.

THE STUFF is a cross between glue and plastics and was described by Fritz J. Nagel and Elizabeth M. Ackerman, of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

They said a joint six inches square glued together, would not pull apart in lifting the locomotive, but perhaps the rest of the lifting beam would tear, because this glue does not fasten pieces of iron. It cements together almost any other material.

The glue after it hardens can be boiled in water without weakening.

here ignored warnings of workmen and went to the docks to administer to the dying. An explosion caught him. He died in a Galveston hospital. He was a twin brother of the Rev. John Roach, director of Catholic charities of the Galveston diocese.

Funeral services for the dead priest were the first to crystallize from the chaos of the blast-torn area. Solemn requiem mass was said at 8 a.m., today and the body was shipped to Philadelphia for final services arranged by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Roach of Media, Pa.

MAJOR J. C. TRAHAN was one of those with a narrow escape. A city garage disintegrated around him. Trahan, who wears a purple heart for buzz bomb wounds suffered in Belgium, said "no buzz bomb could ever compare with the damage that has been wreaked on Texas City. It is such a terrific tragedy that the people have not been able to realize what happened to them."

Deputy Sheriff E. L. Cartwright of Harris County ducked under an automobile when the High Flyer went up. "I lost my glasses and an oil can dropped out of the air and hit my right leg. When it was over, I saw eight men unconscious around me."

Leon Sule, 16, La Grange, Tex., high school student, and his brother, Joe, 20, were in a building near the High Flyer when it went up. "The building shuddered like it was about to cave in. Everybody just stopped dead still where they were," Leon said.

"AFTER THE BLAST I saw people walking around the streets with arms and hands torn off. One had half his face gone but he was still on his feet," Joe said.

The boys were helping check casualties. "It was too horrible to see people go to pieces right in front of us," Joe said.

The disaster area is sealed off by police and deputy sheriffs guarding the road. Silent guardsmen with fixed bayonets stand one to a block. I was stopped four times en route here from Houston and asked for my press credentials.

No attempt was made to stop the oil fires. They burned themselves out.

THE DIGGING out revolves around the stucco and brick city hall in the center of town, where orders are issued and a first aid station has been set up.

A loudspeaker in front of the building blares: "More volunteers needed on the dock. Will more workers return to the dock and help remove the bodies just located."

It is silent, then it says: "We need two more doctors here. Two more doctors, please."

As to passenger trains, he said, many local conditions had to be taken into account in comparing speeds. The west had just as fast passenger trains as the east.

Report Britons Marked for Death

JERUSALEM, April 17.—(RUP)—A list of 10 high ranking Britons in Palestine, including Chief Secretary Sir Henry Gurney, wanted as reprisal victims for the execution of four Jewish underground members, has been drawn up by Irgun Zvai Leumi, usually reliable sources reported today.

GEN. SIR ALAN Cunningham, the high commissioner for Palestine, was not believed to be on the list, the sources said.

An air of exceptional tension was evident throughout Palestine, but underground retaliation for the hanging of David Greener and three other men still was of a slight nature more than 24 hours after the execution. Dummy mines were found in Tel Aviv, and a blazing road block of vehicles and oil was thrown across the path of a British mobile patrol.

THE CURFEW clamped onto the Jewish area of Jerusalem shortly before the executions has been reduced to a sunset-to-sunrise basis. Elsewhere in the affected areas of Palestine curfew restrictions were not lifted.

Police Dog Finds Missing 3-Year-Old

MONCTON, N.B., April 17.—(CP)—Wolf, 18-month-old police dog of the RCMP, played a leading role in a successful search for three-year-old Barbara Jones who wandered into a dense wood near here Tuesday. Wolf picked up the scent immediately and led searchers directly to the frightened girl.

There are 11 gallons of water in the human body.

Couldn't Keep Them Sorted Own SS Divisions "Puzzled" Hitler

By James Devlin

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 17.—(AP)—Hitler told his staff commanders that he regarded foreign units in the German army as "jokes" and was amazed to find he had a Ukrainian SS division.

HE LEARNED THAT one Croat division had tried to murder its German officers.

His attitude was disclosed in a transcript of his own conversations, recovered by American occupation forces.

"We simply do not know what units we have," Hitler said in his Berlin apartment in March, 1945. "I am surprised to hear for the first time that we also have a Ukrainian SS division."

SS Leader Goebbels: "This division has been in existence for a long time."

Hitler: "Either this unit is reliable or not."

Gen. Burgdorf: "The same applies to the Latvian Division No. 20. It was crushed right away."

A first lieutenant broke in: "The Latvian division is fighting in Courland at present. The one that you mentioned as having been crushed was an Estonian unit."

Burgdorf: "Yes, that's right. The Estonians simply disappeared."

ANOTHER FIRST lieutenant named Borzmann, started to speak: "The Indian division—" but was cut short.

Hitler: "The Indian legion is a joke. There are Indians who cannot kill a mouse. They would rather let themselves be killed by them than let them kill them."

I consider it a joke to let them

Immigration Plan Remains Secret

OTTAWA, April 17 (CP)—The Commons yesterday heard one more fleeting reference to a new immigration policy without growing any wiser about the ramifications of a scheme that is expected to broaden the present scope of influx without touching off any mass movement from Europe.

RESOURCES Minister Glen told Gordon Graydon (P-C-El) that "the government will announce its policy in due course."

Informed sources outside the house indicated the policy would be kept secret until the present controls debate was well towards its finish, if not concluded altogether. Thus the date for any announcement is highly indefinite.

The policy is not expected to plunge Canada into the mass immigration field for two main reasons—there are not enough houses for her present 12,000,000 population and there are not enough ships to bring in large numbers.

A fight the English. If we had a surplus of weapons we could permit such jokes for propaganda reasons."

With Rabbits

The demand exceeds the supply for the seven pups and four kittens at our place, but I'll let you folks who wrote in know the Supreme Court decision (the Princess is on the bench now) as soon as possible. Ray Connell, commenting on the column about Annie's blessed event, says, "When you added that the whole experience has been a fine education for the Little Princess, you injected a note deserving more than passing mention. It's all very well to wax poetical on the reproductive activities of the birds, bees and flowers, but for real sensible knowledge free from parental blushes and stammering, I suggest a pair of rabbits."

It's a good suggestion, Ray, but with 13 animals in the immediate vicinity, I might have a little trouble right now convincing the rest of the family.

Lots of funny letters from potential novelists who, like me, get as far as the first paragraph, and we'll just pass along the contribution of one A. De Varennes to show you how easy it is:

"Old Jed Harris sat on the platform of the Harris Grocery Store, his gnarled hands clasped in front of him, his feet resting on the bottom rung of his chair that was tilted against the wall. His faded blue eyes, set in pockets of fine wrinkles etched there by 70 years of California sunshine, were fixed on the nearby footpaths that flowed gently eastward to meet the purple of the high Sierras."

You, too, can write a one-paragraph novel. Send a thousand dollars and stamps for our folder.

On Tolerance

A fine letter from Miss Dorothy Greer makes an interesting postscript to the suggestion here that there is a new tolerance to be found in average people and this is her story:

"Four years ago, when I was 17, my girl friends and I were at camp. One night we were gathered around a bon-fire and the discussion led to racial prejudices. At that time hatred was everywhere burning against all Japanese and all Germans, and my friends, who are possessed with the largest and kindest hearts possible, sat there and spouted hate along with the rest."

"I turned blue in the face arguing that you can't condemn an entire race because of a rotten system governing that country, and that people were created equal and that no one color is superior to another."

"They couldn't see it — they couldn't feel it in their hearts — and yet they were sane, well-brought-up girls. I felt pretty miserable that night. I walked by the water and wept. There didn't seem much hope in the world for peace at any time if they were indicative of our young people. And I felt they were."

"Well, the other night the same girls had another discussion on racial prejudices. We've been fortunate enough to be able to stick through high school together, and now, in our different occupations, we still have the same gang."

"I was thrilled. They admitted that their minds had changed, and now they are so different — no unreasonable hatreds — they're understanding, and it's encouraging. If our group is indicative of young people then there is hope. Maybe if we're able to hold a clear and steady vision our sons won't have to go to war and our daughters won't have to wait."

Barbers' Wages Receive Boost

The guaranteed wage for city barbers was raised from $20 to $25 a week at a meeting of employers and employees sponsored by the department of trade and industry in Calgary today. Barbers receive a 60 per cent commission above their guaranteed wage.

HOURLY WORKERS received an increase from 50 to 65 cents and the daily guarantee was increased from $3.50 a day to $4.35 a day. Apprentices' weekly minimum was raised from $10 to $15 a week.

The work week was reduced from 49 hours to 48 hours. This will not necessitate a change in shop hours, but will be worked out by the individual barbers themselves. The changes will be incorporated into the schedule for the industry. F. G. Cope, inspector of the board of industrial relations, presided at the meeting.

REVISED SCHEDULES of wages and hours in Edmonton barber shops await final release of a new minimum wage and hours schedule by the board of Industrial Relations, an official of the Alberta Barbers' Association, northern division, said.

After the new government regulations have been studied a meeting of master barbers and employees will be held in Edmonton and a new scale of wages announced.

It is likely that it will follow the increased rates agreed at in the Calgary meeting.

Beer By Telephone Service Restored

Beer may again be ordered by phone for home delivery, J. A. King, chairman, Alberta liquor control board, announced Thursday.

The pre-war policy of delivering beer to permit holders at their homes will be resumed at those points in the province where delivery facilities exist, Mr. King says.

In phoning for the delivery of beer, the permit number must be given. It will be checked by delivery men and if found satisfactory the beer will be left at the home.

There is no restriction on the quantity of beer which may be ordered.

Daylight Saving Statement Friday

The proclamation which will put Edmonton on daylight saving time from April 27 to September 28 inclusive will be issued Friday morning by Mayor Harry Ainlay. Announcement that the proclamation would be made on Friday was handed out Thursday by the mayor. He said the document has been completed and will be issued as soon as he has time to prepare a short statement to be issued with the proclaiming of "fast time."

Decision by public school trustees on the change of school hours to conform with daylight saving will not be made until the regular meeting on Tuesday night.

Brush Cutters On Compensation

Men employed in brush cutting with power driven machinery have come under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act according to an announcement Thursday by the board.

THIS MEANS that workmen thus engaged will be entitled to hospital treatment under the terms of the act, and to other advantages under the act. The announcement specifically excludes pulling or blasting by explosives, unless such use of explosives is only incidental to the main task of brush clearing with machinery.

An official of the board estimated that the new provisions would only bring out 50 more men under the terms of the act.

ANOTHER ANNOUNCEMENT amends the definition of airplane mechanic, so that only those employed in the actual work of repairing aircraft would be considered eligible for compensation benefits. This excludes airplane mechanics working for flying clubs.

The new regulation legalizes the practice of the board in the past, as flying club mechanics have never received such benefits.

Name Committee To Probe Housing

Walker Blake Wednesday was named chairman of a special committee of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce to investigate housing in Edmonton, with the object of making recommendations for alleviation of undesirable conditions resulting from use of wartime emergency shelters.

The problem, viewed with mounting concern, pertains chiefly to the prefabricated type of army huts placed in several sections of the city during the war years.

Other members of the three-man committee are: J. L. McCaffrey and R. A. Coulthard. The committee will report back to the chamber at a later date.

Life Insurance Men Meet Here

A banner year for the life insurance business in Canada, was reviewed while methods that will provide better service for Canadian policyholders in the future, were keynoteed by speakers attending the congress of the Northern Alberta Life Underwriters association, that opened in the Corona hotel Thursday.

Other speakers emphasized the responsibility and opportunities for Canadian life insurance companies in building a secure future for the nation.

In the picture at the left are some of the snappy girls in a scene from the first act. Left to right they are Joyce Young, Mary Betts, Jacque Battersby, Jean Cook, Lillian Gomoka, Maudie Blackburn and Ethel Parker. The next picture shows Eleanor Bowerman as the dashing American widow, Mrs. Crocker. The third picture shows Mrs. J. B. Carmichael at the conductor's stand. At the extreme right is Norcen Bristow as Nellie Wagner.

Civic Opera Society Wins Success in Popular Show

Lutheran Pastors Gather in City

Lutheran pastors of Edmonton and surrounding territory assembled at Grace Lutheran church early this week for their regular spring conference. A communion service was held at the church Tuesday evening in which Prof. A. R. Riep, of Concordia college, delivered the sermon and the Rev. A. H. Raduenc of Golden Spike, the confessional address.

THE REV. W. C. EIFERT of Leduc, president of the Alberta-British Columbia District of the Missouri Lutheran Synod, spoke on behalf of the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the synod which is being observed by about 30,000 Lutherans in Western Canada on Sunday, April 27.

Prof. Riep presented a paper on communism, stating that nothing had threatened the existence of the Christian church in a greater measure than this comparatively new political, economic and anti-Christian system.

THE CONFERENCE under the direction of Prof. J. E. Herzer, studied the First Epistle of St. Peter with a view to using given portions of it as texts for sermons. Pastor A. H. Raduenc spoke on church etiquette. Pastor E. G. Wildgrube on vacation Bible schools; Pastor Arthur Appelt on the British-Israelite association; the Rev. L. Liske on the pivotal position of the pastor in his congregation, and the chairman, the Rev. C. I. Klewer on preaching missions. Grace ladies' aid served meals at the parish hall.

London Has New Bomb Scare

LONDON, April 17.—(CUP)—Another London bomb scare today convinced officials that they were victims of either a war of nerves by anti-British Jews or a crude series of practical jokes.

A JANITOR found a mysterious canister with a fuse in the lobby of the Charing Cross post office in the heart of London. Scotland Yard agents went to the scene. The "bomb" was a can of rubbish.

At about the same time police received an anonymous telephone call saying that the Malden telephone exchange building in Surrey, about 10 miles from the heart of London would be blown up at 3 p.m. A search by Scotland Yard revealed nothing untoward.

THE YARD revealed that another anonymous call had enabled officers to identify the man who made the crude but powerful time bomb found yesterday in a Colonial office building. He was described as a "Jewish extremist." Details were not disclosed.

has the company produced such memorable choral effects. There was power, artistry, balance, and the whole was permeated with enthusiasm and spontaneous vivacity. For a first night, the action moved rapidly, and there were no delays that militated noticeably against the general smooth-flowing nature of the show.

Mrs. James B. Carmichael, despite recent illness, and a more recent injury resulting from a fall, conducted with unusual ability. She was in full command of the situation at all times and was tireless in her efforts to keep the action moving rapidly and on a high plane. In all her conductorial experience, she has seldom equalled her contribution of last night.

TO DRAMATIC director Charles F. Sweetlove goes much praise for a splendid production. Mrs. Imelda Phipps-Olsen turned out highly creditable choruses, one of the best, while Marian Kinney Rouse, the dance director, contributed immeasurably with her finely-conceived choreography.

The cast, replete with talent, was skillfully balanced. Laurier Picard kept the audience roaring with laughter in his top-notch characterization of Hans Wager, the Cincinnati brewer, who asked everybody he met, "Vass you ever in Zin-zin-att?" He has many from rank performances to his credit, but certainly none outranks his work as the touring brewer. It was a visit to the theatre to see him, if for no other reason.

THEN, THERE is a whole string of other fine artists. One could wish for nothing finer than John Markle's performance as Francois; Merle Patterson as Edith; Eleanor Bowerman as Mrs. Crocker; Noreen Bristow as Nellie Wagner; Richard Ball, Jr., as Lt. Tom Wagner; Paul Hervieux as Carl Ott, the Prince of Pilsen; Rose Markle as Sidonie; John Macklin as Sergeant Brie; Hazel Bunkall as Jimmie; and Orest Demco as Lord Somerset.

All played their parts splendidly, carrying out their assignments with care and precision and making their roles an integral, valuable part of the whole. Seldom has the society presented a better balanced cast. One would have appreciated a little more strength on the singing end, as in this department there was not a uniformly high standard.

GIRLS REPRESENTING cities were Boston, Marilyn Rogers; San Francisco, Florence Castor; Baltimore, Merle Patterson; New Orleans, Betty McCann; Chicago, Helen Trimble; Philadelphia, Jeanne Fraser; New York, Dorothy McConville.

Other members of the company were: Jacquie Battersby, Mary Betts, Maide Blackburn, Jean Cook, Lesley Clark, Lillian Gomoka, Peggy Major, Bernice McIntyre, Mary O'Donnell, Ethel Parker, Marjorie Ross, Hilda Thompson, Winifred Woodward, Joyce Young, Richard Ball, Sr., Kenneth K. Campbell, Robert Currie, Sidney DeBoer, Earl Fetherstonhaugh, Rudolph Friedrich, Tom Irwin, Ivor Mathew, Kenneth Mansfield, Marcel Mahue, John Melnyk, Don O'Neil, John McIntyre, George Perring, Maurice Rookwood, Robert Shaw, A. The Book of Knowledge

America Before Columbus

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

The largest area of early American Indian life was the Eastern Woodlands—a huge section stretching from the Atlantic Ocean west to the Plains, north to the Eskimo and Mackenzie areas, and south to Kentucky.

There was a northern group of tribes living between Lakes Huron and Superior and the Eskimo area.

Algonkian baby in cradle strapped to his mother's back.

Families banded together and lived in villages, usually on high land not far from a stream.

The summer house of the Algonkians was dome-shaped, covered with bark or mats. It was called a wigwam. The winter house was a rectangular affair, with walls of bark stretched over saplings.

The Algonkian clothing was of woven bark fibre, rabbit skins, deer skin and (among the Eastern Algonkians) feather robes. They were fair tailors; the women's usual costume was a two-piece dress. Moccasins provided foot gear; sometimes leggings were added.

Weapons were the bow and arrows, clubs and, later, tomahawks. Birch bark was made into various utensils; mats were woven of reed and bark. The canoes were of birch bark.

There were no social classes and little attention was paid to ownership of property within the tribe. Religion was important, and there were dances and ceremonies for many occasions, especially centering around warfare. The Algonkian had many stories about their gods and their forefathers; some of these stories have come down to us.

Young Violinist Scores Success

Under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Zonia Lazarowich, young Edmonton violinist appeared in recital at McDougall United Church on Wednesday night. She was given an enthusiastic reception by a near-capacity audience estimated at 1,200 persons.

MISS LAZAROWICH'S unusually good intonation and phrasing were skillfully displayed in numbers as widely separated in style as the Tartin-Bridgewater Presto, and the Max Bruch Concerto in G Minor. Both enhanced by her charming, quiet stage presence. She rose to her greatest heights in the Bruch concerto, one of the most difficult works of its kind.

Besides the two numbers mentioned above, the first part of the program included the Intrada by Desplanes, which revealed other phases of her ability.

LA FOLIA, Correlli; La Gitana, (Kreisler) Slavonic Dance No. 2, Dvorak-Kreisler; Serenite, Viennese, and Hark, Hark, the Lark, Schubert, formed the second section of the program, lighter than the first but still exacting heavy demands from the soloist.

Miss Lazarowich was called back to the platform for two encores by her enthusiastic audience. She played the Brahms Waltz in A and Czardas, by Monti.

Capable and artistic support was given the soloist at the piano, by Nelda Faulkner. Some of the numbers selected were difficult and called for an intricate interweaving of melody, but Miss Faulkner earned the full appreciation of the audience by her splendid work.

Rodents Threaten To Invade Province

Invasion of the province of Alberta by rats is foreseen by J. H. Brown, provincial entomologist who urges that the public report their presence whenever they may be seen, alive or dead.

THE ADVANCING RATS have established salients within 35 miles of the Saskatchewan-Alberta border.

one of these to the north of the North Saskatchewan river, and the other to the south of the South Saskatchewan. The rivers form a barrier, which they do not seem able to surmount. Mr. Brown pointed out.

EMPRESS and Lloydminster are the points most immediately threatened, Mr. Brown said.

AS SOON as a report is received that there is evidence of rats in any section of the province, the department makes a detailed survey of the area and will take steps to drive the invaders out. Citizens are urged to make prompt reports when they suspect the presence of these rodents.

TWO CREWS of University students will again cover the province this year, doing research work dealing with the exclusion of rats. The crews will start work in the south of the province and will gradually work their way to the north.

The battle against spotted fever is under way with vaccination clinics already operating at Manyberries, Redcliff and Thelma in the Cypress Hills area, Mr. Brown says.

It is expected that 2,500 persons will be immunized against this disease this season.

U.K. Immigrants For Australia

LONDON, April 17 (Reuters).—Three troopships will carry 6,900 British immigrants to Australia this year and more than double this number in 1948. Viscount Addison, dominions secretary, announced in the House of Lords today. The South African government was taking over two troopships to handle another group of prospective immigrants.

LORD ADDISON announced the dominions have agreed not to accept as immigrants men who are liable for military service in the United Kingdom. He also said no limitation would be made on the amount of capital a migrant could take from Britain unless he was going to a dollar country. In that case, capital is limited to £5,000 ($20,000) during the first four years.

Earlier Lord Tweedsmuir, son of the late governor-general of Canada, initiated a debate on emigration, urging that interchange of populations among parts of the commonwealth was no less vital now to its prosperity than in the past.

LOSS OF THESE men and women to manpower-short Britain, Lord Tweedsmuir declared, would not be a one-sided sacrifice. The commonwealth countries were making sacrifices to help Britain. There was no urgent need for progressive industrialization of the commonwealth countries, he said. For an expanding home market for their expanding industries they must have an expanding population.

Resolution Endorsed Chamber of Commerce Asks Formation of Safety Bureau

Organization of a city safety bureau, headed by a highly-qualified safety expert, with the City of Edmonton assuming full financial obligation for the function of the bureau, will be recommended to Mayor Harry Ainlay in a resolution endorsed by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce Council Wednesday.

IN DISCUSSION leading up to passage of the resolution it was pointed out that the city pays a large amount of money each year for claims resulting from injuries in traffic accidents.

The chamber body therefore considers salary of a safety and traffic expert and expenses of the proposed bureau should be paid by the city.

THE CHIEF objective of the bureau will be reduction of traffic accidents in the city.

The resolution also urged the mayor to instruct the police department to take vigorous action to enforce more rigidly by-laws and regulations governing traffic by all public and non-public vehicles and conveyances and pedestrians.

The council of the chamber noted that an Edmonton safety council has been functioning for some time but is handicapped by a lack of funds.

Surviving him are his parents, Mr and Mrs Victor Pollock, three brothers, Wolfe, Adolph, and Fred all of Edmonton.

A funeral service will be held in Hainstock and King's Chapel, Saturday at 2 p.m. The Rev. Dr. Edward T. Scragg will officiate. Burial will be in the Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

ning next September. Col. P. S. Warren, who has been provost for the last two years, will vacate that office in order to devote his spare time to his duties as provost.

OTHER NEW appointments to be effective next September are: Marcel Faucher, to be assistant professor of French; W. E. Smith to be field superintendent and lecturer in field crops; A. J. Stephenson, to be sessional instructor in physics; G. W. Sadler, to be sessional instructor in mechanical engineering.

The Board of Governors gave consideration to reports from the Deans of Medicine and Dentistry in regard to the number of students which can be taken into the first years of these faculties next September. The faculty of medicine expects to take in 45 students. Nearly all of these will come from students now in second-year pre-medicine, but a very few highly qualified student veterans will come from neighboring universities which have no medical schools and with which the University of Alberta has a long-standing co-operative arrangement.

IN VIEW of the cumulative overcrowding which is beginning to affect adversely the quality of work done in some of the laboratories, it was regretfully decided that the quota in dentistry must be smaller than it was last fall. The faculty is desirous of carrying forward into second year all of the 51 students now in first-year who qualify. In this spring's examinations. At present the faculty is confident of being able to carry forward a minimum of 25 students, Dr. Newton said.

The chairman welcomed Barclay W. Pitfield, the new vice-president of the Alumni Association, an office which includes membership in the board. All members expressed appreciation of the services of Justice Hugh John Macdonald and regretted that his retirement from the presidency of the Alumni Association involved also retirement from the board of governors.

POLICE COURT Warning Issued To Auto Speeders

Another warning was issued by Magistrate A. I. Millar in city police court Thursday morning to drivers who insist on speeding. He said he was going to have to start cancelling drivers' licenses again until "the driving got down to common sense." Three city taxi drivers appeared for speeding on city streets, and drew fines of $20 and costs or 30 days. Mr. Millar told them that if they appeared again, it would mean suspension of their licenses.

Charles Grayley, Edmonton, was found guilty on a dangerous driving charge and fined a fine of $40 and costs or two months. The accused was reported to have gone through a stop sign on Wednesday and barely avoided colliding with two auto's while driving from 107 street and 102 avenue to 100 street and Jasper avenue.

Rufus A. Sanford, Edmonton, was fined $10 and costs on each of four charges of false pretences. The accused obtained a total of $52.15 by means of worthless cheques. The magistrate said he was being lenient due to the fact that restitution was made and Sanford was a married man with a family to support.

LIBBY'S BABY FOODS SAFE FOR SIX-WEEK-OLD INFANTS

Only Libby's Baby Foods Can Be Safely Digested At So Early An Age Because Only Libby's Are Homogenized

When it's time to add fruits and vegetables to your baby's diet, these foods present a new problem to inexperienced little tummies. Even when they are commercially strained they contain coarse fibres and unbroken food cells, which hold the nourishment within their walls.

This makes Libby's Foods so extra easy to digest that clinical tests show even a six-week-old baby can digest Libby's easily, without upset.

Jet Pilot Ready For Blue Grass

NEW YORK, April 17 (CP)—Jet Pilot, the $41,000 purchase which was taken out of action last January so he could spend all his time getting ready for the Kentucky Derby, came back Wednesday and showed that he is all ready for a crack at the $100,000 blue grass jackpot.

In the slot at Jamaica Park, Alberta-raised Johnny Longden brought him splashing home by two lengths over I Will, owned by California's radio executive Jay Paley, and Brookmeade Stable's Peace Harbor. Six other Derby candidates finished behind Jet Pilot in the six-furlong Jamaica handicap, run in a snappy 1:11.36.

Expect Gouzenko Seek Citizenship

OTTAWA, April 17 (CP)—Justice Minister Lilev told the Commons yesterday he believed it was the intention of Igor Gouzenko, former Russian Embassy cipher clerk and key man in the espionage trials, to apply for Canadian citizenship. Answering questions, he confirmed reports that Gouzenko had been made a British subject by cabinet action and said it was possible for a British subject to apply for the new Canadian citizenship certificates if they had certain residence qualifications. He was not sure whether the Russian had made an application as yet nor was he sure that Gouzenko could meet the residence requirements at this time.

Tells Ottawa Deal In Home Problems

OTTAWA, April 17 (CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, advised the government last night to give its first attention to domestic problems rather than international affairs.

IN AN ADDRESS prepared for delivery over CBC's Trans-Canada network on the political front, he declared Canada was sending delegations all over the world to settle international disputes but refused to call the provincial governments together to "settle our own disputes at home."

"It is thus letting develop a dangerous division in our domestic affairs," he said. "It has entered upon a degree of centralization of taxing powers that threatens the very basis of confederation."

"THE GOVERNMENT" doesn't hesitate to spend your money to settle other people's problems. But it lets its own domestic problems fester, until they become chronic sores, resulting in the spread of Communist and other dangerous doctrines the longer they remain unsolved. It is time we learned in Canada that the primary responsibilities of government are here at home, not abroad. It is time we had a policy of Canada for Canadians, a policy of a united Canada, not one that will split it apart."

Red Cross Giving Million to Britain

LONDON, April 17 (CP)—The Canadian Red Cross is going to hand the Lord Mayor's National Flood Distress Fund its largest contribution—a cheque for $1,500,000. The presentation will take place at Mansion House Thursday, Col. R. W. Frost, Canadian Red Cross Commissioner in London, said yesterday. This contribution of funds raised in Canada through Red Cross facilities is in addition to hundreds of thousands of dollars already contributed to the fund by other Canadians whose money has helped boost the fund far past its original £400,000 ($1,600,000) goal.

Howson, in Supreme Court here last night when he was found guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of Matthew Petras, 62-year-old Lethbridge coal miner, here May 26, 1941. Bridge

By William E. McKenney
At the dinner table the other night Peter Leventritt, Erich Kreisel and I were discussing newspaper hands. Today's hand was given to me by Kreisel, who thought it was an ideal newspaper hand. Leventritt differed. He thought the most interesting hands were those about which paper the experts argue. I agree with Leventritt, but I like today's hand. Several pairs made the hand because when East won the opening lead with the king of diamonds he shifted to a club and South took the finesse.

monds he shifted to a club and South took the finesse. The only way to defeat the hand is for West to open the jack of hearts—no other heart will do the trick.

With the diamond opening, here is the line of play presented by Leventritt and Kreisel: Let us say that East wins the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returns the diamond king. Instead of trumping this, South discards the six of hearts. If East shifts to a spade, declarer wins it in dummy, and then takes the club finesse, or if East returns a club, South takes the finesse immediately.

If South trumps the second diamond, he has to work out a rather involved endplay to make the contract. He must cash the ace of clubs, trump the eight of clubs in dummy, and lead the jack of spades. East of course will not cover, so the ten of spades is lost and overtaken with the queen. Now the balance of the spades are cashed, and East is forced to bare down to the ace-queen of hearts and the queen and one club. Declarer then cashes the king of clubs and throws East in the lead with the jack.

If East bares down to the ace of hearts and three clubs, South has to lead a heart to East's ace and then take the club finesse.

the New Way to take VITAMINS...for better results!

Take them in fortified food—the delicious Ovaltine way!

Of course, the whole subject of vitamins is new. We learn more about them every day. And today, millions are learning a new and better way to take their extra vitamins—a more modern, more natural way that can do more good. Discarding earlier methods of taking vitamins alone, they now take them in fortified food!

For latest evidence shows that vitamins do not work alone. They work most effectively in combination with certain other food elements—which are absolutely necessary for best results.

This is the reason so many people are changing to Ovaltine. A specially-fortified supplementary food-drink—it contains—besides vitamins—nearly every precious food element needed for good health. Especially, those elements necessary for vitamin-effectiveness.

For example, Vitamin A and protein are both necessary in cell-building. Vitamin B₁ and energy food act together for sparkling vitality. Vitamin D, Calcium and Phosphorus also need each other. You get them all in a glass of Ovaltine made with milk!

So why not turn to Ovaltine, as many people are doing? If you're eating normal meals, 2 glasses of Ovaltine give you all the extra vitamins and minerals you need for robust health.

Authorities say many people should get extra vitamins and minerals. Reasons include: improper selection of food—vitamin deficiencies of many modern foods—also loss of vitamin-mineral values due to shipping, storing and cooking.
